CLAIM THEY ARE REGULARS

Ex-President's Henchmen
Will Declare Taft Convention Bolters if
They Cannot Rule

CHICAGO, June 10.—Although the Roosevelt leaders are insistent in their claims that they will have a majority when the convention convenes a week from Tuesday, they have not neglected to lay plans for a convention of their own, provided the Taft steam roller proves too strong and they are unable to control. They will fight to the last ditch in the convention, but if they lose hope of winning, it is considered they will bolt.

Roosevelt will be on hand in person to lead the fight for his nomination. A suite of rooms has been engaged for him in the Blackstone hotel for several weeks.

Plan to Bolt.

Here is the plan evolved by ex-Boss Flinn of Pittsburgh, which has been approved by all the members of the new steering committee of which Flinn is chairman and Knox of Michigan secretary: Nothing will be conceded to the Taft forces. No matter what action the national committee may take, the Roosevelt forces will insist that their contesting delegations be given seats in the convention hall. If the temporary roll of the national committee is accepted as the temporary roll of the convention, it will not be until after a fight that will be worth watching. But even that defeat will not end the matter. Every contest that was brought before the national committee will be brought right back before the national convention's committee on credentials and fought out there. The Roosevelt forces believe that they can capture the committee on credentials. If they cannot do this they will present a minority report in favor of all their contesting delegates and will try to stampede the convention to their claim. Only if they fail to do this will they withdraw from the hall and then they will go right ahead, as though they had won the fight. They will name their permanent chairman, adopt their platform and nominate their national ticket, which, unless some change should be necessary for strategic reasons, will be Roosevelt and Governor Hiram Johnson of California as his running mate.

Will Be G. O. P.

They will claim that they are the republican national convention, and will characterize the Taft forces as bolters. They will also, Flinn declares, have the election machinery in every state where there is a direct primary. In most of the states the governor of the state is a Roosevelt man and they claim that the Roosevelt ticket will get on the ballot in the place that is assigned to the republican party in that state.

That this Roosevelt program has alarmed the Taft leaders was certain today, and they had undertaken fighting methods to checkmate it. They announced that the sergeant-at-arms of the convention will "preserve order in the convention, if it takes every assistant he has and every uniformed policeman in the city of Chicago." This was generally construed as meaning that if the Taft people can continue their control of the situation and hold the convention, that the Roosevelt forces will be ejected from the hall if they start a demonstration.

Rooters Arrive.

Nearly every delegate will be on hand by Wednesday or Thursday. The convention really entered on the enthusiasm stage when one hundred Roosevelt boomers from the Pacific coast rolled in and immediately started cheering the colonel and his hat through the corridors of the hotels. They are the vanguard, the Roosevelt leaders admitted, of more than 25,000 showmen who will be brought here to "impress" the delegates that the Roosevelt enthusiasm is real. Senator Dixon, Senator Flinn and all of the other Roosevelt men are depending a great deal on emotional work to help them break the solid Taft ranks.

Talk La Follette Shift.

There was a report here today that Roosevelt had been privately assured that he would get the La Follette delegates later on, probably after the first ballot was cast for president. This was promptly de-

RUMORS OF DESERTION RIFE

Talk of Shifts from Both Sides May Be Proved True Although Denied

CHICAGO, June 10.—While every train that reached this city today added to the quota of noted republicans who have besieged this city preparatory to the assembling of the republican national convention next week, the leaders of both the Taft and Roosevelt forces consulted with their lieutenants behind closed doors. The fight is no longer in the open. The margin by which each manager claims control is so narrow that half a dozen votes may decide. So from now on, while the managers will continue to issue their trumpet blasts claiming victory, the real fighting will be done under cover.

Talk of Desertion.

Rumors of desertions from both the Roosevelt and the Taft camps were circulated and promptly denied. It seemed certain, however, that there would be some desertions that would change the outcome, but from what quarter they may be expected seemed hard to determine.

U. S. Senator Kenyon of Iowa was an early arrival. He promptly opened Cummings headquarters and insisted that the final outcome of the convention would be the choice of his associate in the senate as a compromise candidate for the presidency.

The ranks of the Roosevelt boomers were augmented by Judge Ben Lindsay of Denver who said while he wanted to go on to New York at once, he would stay here until he was certain that no "attempt would be made to defraud Colonel Roosevelt out of the nomination."

The Aldrich currency bill became a factor in the situation today. Bankers who are interested in having the measure endorsed are working from widely different angles, but to the same purpose.

Financiers—one rumor named George W. Perkins, although his friends denied it—were trying to impress on the Roosevelt leaders that some such plan as the Aldrich commission arranged, but changed so that the standpat machine could get no credit, was needed to aid Roosevelt with the bankers and to "start the wheels of prosperity when he was elected."

TELLS TAFT HE HAS 577 VOTES

Hilles 'Phones Figures to
Taft Which Roosevelt
Men Claim Are Wrong

CHICAGO, June 10.—"Conceding Mr. Roosevelt every delegate to which he has the slightest legal title, this including the California, Washington and Dakota districts where the contention is technical, the delegates to this convention will be divided on the initial roll call as follows: Taft, 577; La Follette, if he retains his strength, 36; Cummings, 19; Roosevelt, 455."

This was the message that Secretary to the President Hilles gave his chief over the carefully guarded long distance telephone wire today from his quarters in the Blackstone.

The Roosevelt leaders insisted that while these might be the figures from the standpoint of the individual state leaders who are for Taft they did not represent the individual delegate. They insisted that the individual delegates from many of the states where the Taft people were building their heaviest hopes would prove a great surprise when they arose in their places and cast their ballots in the convention. The smallest estimate of the delegates that they will control was 700.

FAMILY QUARREL; SUICIDE

CHICAGO, Ill., June 10.—Policeman Thomas Murphy smelled gas in front of Napoleon Meyers' barber shop early today. He climbed through the transom and attempted to save the barber, who was lying on the floor with several gas jets turned full on. The policeman was overcome and two citizens who saw him fall to the floor broke in the door and dragged the two men outside.

Murphy was revived by the pulmonologist but Myers was dead. The police learned that he had quarreled with his fourth wife last night and then went to his shop to end his life.

BIG EVENT FOR JULY FOURTH

Bartl and Hood Horses to Compete in Fast Event in Which Mr. Bartl Will Drive Dell Dillion

Opening with a matinee at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the "La Crosse Gentlemen's Driving Club" will furnish a racing program at the fair grounds each Wednesday until September 15.

The club was formed several weeks ago. The officers of the club are as follows:

John M. George, president.
C. A. Mundstock, vice president.
C. E. Bentley, secretary.
C. S. Cone, treasurer.

At present the membership consists of the following: Frank H. Aiken, Jos. Bartl, C. E. Bentley, F. Botz, F. C. Clause, C. S. Cone, Wm. Farley, Lewis L. Fox, John M. George, R. H. Higbee, G. R. Hodges, E. M. Lockman, M. J. Lyons, L. J. Malrich, C. A. Mundstock, N. Nustad, J. F. Schrank, G. R. Smith, Bert Wicks.

It is announced that this membership will be increased by the addition of about ten new names at a meeting to be held Thursday in the private parlors of Schrank's cafe.

With the exception of a matinee on the Fourth of July, during which week the regular Wednesday meeting will be omitted, the races will be free. It is planned to give three races each Wednesday, with from three to six starters in each race, and sportsmen regard this plan as an excellent one, as it assures good contests.

Three horses of more than local note will take part in the Independence day matinee, and the outlook is for some classy racing. Joseph Bartl's Dell Dillion, purchased in Chicago recently, and C. L. Hood's Alexander and Alice McGregor are expected to compete. Dell Dillion is marked 1 1/2. Alexander 1 1/2 and Alice McGregor 2 1/2. These horses are not expected to get into the game much before the Fourth, but their appearance on that occasion is expected to attract considerable attention. The fair association places no bar on charging admission, and while the racing club will make no charge for regular meetings, it may establish a small fee for the Fourth in order to help meet current expenses.

STRIKE ON LINER

PARIS, June 10.—French line officials today said they were uncertain when the big new liner France would sail for New York because of the strike among her stokers. The France, due to sail Saturday, did not get away then and again yesterday her passengers were disappointed. It was first stated that the delay was due to insufficient time for coaling but finally was admitted that the France's stokers had struck for 110 francs a month instead of 90 francs, their present wages.

SUSTAINS COMMERCE COURT

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The commerce court's injunction, holding up an order of the interstate commerce commission prohibiting payment by a dozen railroads with New York terminals, to lighterage rebates to shippers transferring their own freight within the "free lighterage zone" of New York harbor, was sustained today by the supreme court.

PALS DIE TOGETHER

CHICAGO, June 10.—Rader La Grange, 22, and Sam Zader, 25, room mates, were found dead in their bed today with gas pouring from the jets in their room at 1681 Root avenue. Both were out of work and their death is believed to be the result of a suicide pact.

HARRY MONTY DIES OF TUBERCULOSIS

Harry J. Monty, aged 38, died of tuberculosis at the La Crosse hospital yesterday afternoon at 12:55 o'clock after being ill for the last year. He has been at the hospital for three months.

Mr. Monty is well known here where he has lived for many years. He was in the government service for ten years and he was mate on the Alert. He was a member of the Eagles.

Surviving him are brothers, Edward L. and Fred J., of La Crosse; Frank of Lavinia, Mont.; and John T. of Faribault, Minn.; and two sisters, Miss Jean Monty of Faribault, Minn., and Mrs. Jessie Charleston of Stillwater.

The funeral will be held from the residence of his brother, Fred, 809 La Crosse street, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. Henry Faville in charge of the services. Interment will be made in Oak Grove cemetery.

La Crosse To Have Old Fashioned Fourth

A "sane Fourth" celebration that will include a little of nearly every known variety of sport, as well as the fireworks indispensable to the day, is planned by the North Side Progressive League for Copeland Park on Independence Day. The day will start with a grand industrial parade, with prizes offered for the best floats. There will also be prizes in a launch parade and a prize for the best speed boat. There will be two baseball games with prizes of $50 and $25 hung up, and prizes for swimming and sack races, boys' and girls' races, rowing races, fat men's races, climbing the greased pole, and all the festivities of an old-fashioned Fourth. A pavilion will be erected in the park for a bowery dance, and there will be merry-go-rounds for those who do not dance. Several bands have been engaged for the day to make melodious the atmosphere with the "Red Rose Rag," "Ragtime Violin," and the rest of the popular favorites. In the evening an exhibition of fireworks under the supervision of a Chicago expert has been arranged.

MILWAUKEE BOYS CAUGHT BY POLICE

Three Runaways Found
with Tramps; Pretended
Deaf and Dumb Man
Arrested

Protesting that they were being sent west to work on a farm for their health by their parents, three Milwaukee boys, August Ewell, Ralph Schettinger and Lawrence Ellis, all healthy looking youths of sixteen, were picked up by Patrolman William Horschak this morning and taken to Central station. The fact that the boys were in the company of two tramps aroused the policeman's suspicions. A telegram to the police department of Milwaukee brought the prompt information that the three boys had run away from their homes in Milwaukee two or three days ago and that their parents had been anxiously looking for them ever since.

The message announced that Mrs. Ewell would come to La Crosse at once to take the boys back home. The two tramps, Edward Tell and William Beeben, who were initiating the boys into the "ways of the road," were escorted to the city limits by the police and told to make use of their own knowledge which they did with considerable alacrity.

Pretender Is Caught

Earl Meyers, age 23, was arrested this morning for attempting to obtain money under the pretense that he was deaf and dumb. Meyers was arrested on complaint of W. J. Fitzpatrick. Meyers undertook to work on the sympathies of the local photographer through his pretended affliction. The fact that he was not able to "speak" the sign language aroused Fitzpatrick's suspicions and he caused a telephone message to be sent to the police while he engaged Meyers in a written conversation. Captain Larry Dugan arrived before the stranger's interest began to lag and he was taken into custody. He will be arranged on a charge of begging.

Charles Fritz, a transient, was arrested today on the suspicion that he stole several carpenter's tools which he was selling.

Fritz, who was drunk when arrested, denied all knowledge of the tools.

OLDEST NUN IN CITY IS DEAD

Lacking less than three months of being 98 years old, Sister Mary Hortulana, the oldest nun in La Crosse, and reputed to be the oldest in the state of Wisconsin, died yesterday morning at the St. Rose convent. Death is said to have been due to her advanced age.

Sister Mary Hortulana, whose family name was Habermann, was born in Austria, August 28, 1814. She has been for years a member of the community of the St. Rose convent.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock from the St. Rose chapel at the convent.

READY TO CALL THE TROOPS

Notice

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The presence in Havana harbor today of two American warships under Admiral Osterhaus, the appearance at the state department of Speaker Orestes Ferrara, of the Cuban house of representatives, pleading for more time in which to crush the negro rebellion; continued official dispatches that Havana is on the brink of a sanguinary race war, and a newly developed opposition to intervention in the United States senate, brought to official Washington today the most critical situation in the Cuban embroglio.

Senator Nelson of Minnesota, is heading the opposition to any meddling with Cuban affairs, charging that the negro uprising has been incited and financed by the sugar trust in order to effect annexation of the island, and thus escape the present duty.

Jingoes in the capital received a jolt today when they learned that Senators Root and Bacon agreed with Senator Nelson that intervention must be authorized by congress to be legal. It has been assumed that the Platt amendment gave the president the right at any time to order intervention in Cuba without asking permission of congress.

Admiral Osterhaus is instructed to land marines in Havana at the moment he thinks the Cuban authorities need their assistance to stop fighting in the streets. On the desk of Major General Wood, chief of staff, is an order filled out except for the signature. The order, if issued, will start 5,000 troops for Cuba within an hour.

KEY WEST, Fla., June 10.—With his flagship, the armored cruiser Washington and the battleship Rhode Island, Rear Admiral Osterhaus today at dawn sailed from Key West to Havana, following the order from Washington.

Rebels Lose to U. S.

HAVANA, June 10.—Reports from Santiago today say negro rebels engaged a company of United States marines under command of Capt. Edward B. Mainwring and were repulsed. The marines, who were guarding the El Cuero mines, merican property, sustained no casualties and it was impossible to ascertain the loss of the insurgents.

MRS. FIRST FUNERAL TODAY

The funeral of Mrs. Anna First of Brinkman Ridge, who died at Mendota, Thursday, was held at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Westecka, 716 Denton street, at 8:30 o'clock this morning and at St. Wenceslaus church at nine o'clock. Rev. X. Till officiated at the services.

The pallbearers were Charles Houska, Albert Kubal, Wenzel Roubek, John Michel, Joseph Hovick and John Lukas. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

GIRL THOUGHT DROWNED

GREEN BAY, Wis., June 10.—Caroline Fichter, aged 22, a prominent young woman of Sister Bay, and daughter of Dr. A. H. Fichter, is believed to have been drowned in Green Bay. Miss Fichter left home Thursday afternoon for a row on the bay and the empty boat was discovered Saturday. The bay is being dragged.

BODY SENT TO WESTBY

The body of Ole Oftedahl found in the Mississippi river Saturday, was sent to Westby yesterday morning at 7:40 o'clock on the La Crosse & Southeastern railway. The funeral will be held at Westby today.

GREEN RIDER RUNS INTO STREET CAR

A young man by the name of Magnusson, of Houston, Minn., ran into a street car at Fourteenth and Jackson streets yesterday afternoon while taking his first lesson at motorcycle riding, and demolished his machine. He was slightly bruised about the left side of the face. Magnusson, with Julius Akerwold of La Crosse, who was demonstrating a motorcycle for which he is the agent, was riding west on Jackson street, when the car going north turned the curve at that point. Akerwold called to his companion to be careful, but he lost his head and steered into the side of the car, which had slowed down for the curve. The fact that neither was going at high speed is all that saved Magnusson from death or serious injury, according to spectators of the accident.

VILLISCA, Ia., June 10.—Eight people, an entire family and two women visitors, were found, their heads crushed with an axe, dead in the home of J. W. Moore, a prominent implement dealer, today.

The dead: J. W. Moore, 42 years old; Mrs. J. W. Moore, 40; Herman Moore, 11; Catherine Moore, 9; Floyd Moore, 7; Paul Moore, 6; Miss Edith Stillinger, 20; Miss Blanche Stillinger, 17.

The discovery was made by a neighbor, who found the entire family dead in their beds. There was no sign of a struggle, all of the victims having been killed in their sleep.

There is no trace of the murderer, and the case is an absolute mystery.

In the upstairs room, where the murderer evidently completed his bloody task, lying across the bed, were the forms of Floyd and Paul, two little sons, huddled together, the neighbors found the bloodstained axe. In the front guest chamber downstairs, the two Stillinger girls lay, their faces and heads beaten into an indistinguishable mass.

Upstairs in the front room, were Mr. and Mrs. Moore. They too, were horribly mutilated. In two other rooms lay their daughter and son. The police of the surrounding country have been notified to seek John Van Gilder, former husband of Mrs. Moore's sister. It is believed that he may have some knowledge of the perpetrator of the crime.

COLISEUM, Chicago, June 10.—The republican national committee seated the Taft delegates from the First Indiana congressional district. They are former State Senator James A. Hemenway and Charles P. Heilman. The decision was by a viva voce vote, not a single negative being recorded. The contest in the Third was then taken up.

COLISEUM, Chicago, June 10.—The Taft forces won their fight in the case of the four delegates at large from Indiana this afternoon when the national committee directed that the names of the Taft delegates be placed on the temporary roll. These delegates are Colonel Harry S. New, Charles S. Fairbanks, James E. Watson and Joseph D. Oliver.

This was a material advantage in this victory for the Taft men, as Fairbanks has been selected chairman of the resolutions committee should the Taft forces be in control of the national convention.

Borah declared that while he believed there had been frauds perpetrated and he did not believe he ought to endorse them, still he was satisfied the evidence showed that a primary was held and that President Taft carried Marion county. Because of this he announced that he would vote to seat the Taft delegates and Frank Kellogg took the same attitude. The committee in seating the Taft delegates at large was unanimous. New was excused from voting.

Emphasize Taft's Control

The control of the Taft Leaders on the republican national committee was emphasized today when after George Knight, national committeeman from California, had forced the committee to take up the contest in the Fourth district of California it was, on request of former Senator Dick, sent over to Wednesday. #### THE TRIBUNE OFFER

The Tribune has recently entered a great National publication alliance and become sole distributor of a superb war-time memorial for this city and vicinity. It is THE CIVIL WAR THROUGH THE CAMERA, and is the choicest of the famous Brady's and other war photographers' work, handsomely reproduced.

The Tribune was more than glad to have this opportunity, not only because of its great patriotic and educational value, but also because the enormous distribution involved in every State of the Union has resulted in placing this unique work in reach of every home, at the bare cost of handling.

Think of it! The famous originals, taken by Brady and others on the actual fields of battle, are today priceless. The United States government paid $27,840 for a portion of them, fifty years ago. Another part was lost for many years, and has only recently been discovered.

Many famous Confederate pictures have also been brought to light after months of patient search and the expenditure of a fortune.

Yet here are the choicest of these pictures now issued direct to you by The Tribune at a cost of a few cents to pay us for the handling!

It is the most extraordinary offer in the annals of publishing!

THE ENTHUSIASTIC RESPONSE

The people of La Crosse are backing up The Tribune in this monumental enterprise. The response during the first week just closed has been immediate and enthusiastic. Orders have poured in daily by person and through the mail, until our stock of the opening part has been almost exhausted.

The people of La Crosse know a good thing when they see it. And the best thing in all the realms of bookdom is here within their reach—practically for the asking.

This series of finely illustrated portfolios—sixteen in all—makes you an interested and enthralled eye-witness of the great battles and events of the Civil War. You see just what the camera saw—the generals issuing their orders, the men marching down the dusty road, or toiling in the trenches, or charging upon the enemy, or lying down in the evening to rest—some of them never to arise.

You become a personal spectator of the most momentous conflict of modern times. The happenings of history grow real to you.

More than all this—you may find in these rare old pictures the face of some relative or friend, greeting you again across the past. Hundreds have done so. The collection is really marvelous.

How One Old Soldier Found Himself in the Photographs

John Landegon, a famous Union scout, tells this interesting story about his experience with the Brady war photographs: "I got the book recently, and was looking through it, and all of a sudden, by Gee! there was I! I got shot the very next day after the picture was taken—the only one I had taken during the War—and I hadn't thought about the photograph from that day until I looked out at myself after all these years. I had just about forgotten what sort of a young fellow I was those days. That was a long time ago. The next day I made my last scout in Virginia."

SECTION TWO NOW READY TELLING IN TEXT AND WAR TIME PHOTOGRAPHS THE STIRRING STORY OF THE BATTLE OF SHILOH

Each section is complete in itself, and tells the story of a great battle or series of events. The pictures are accompanied by a clear, interesting story, from the pen of Professor Henry W. Elson, of Ohio University, told so vividly that you become for the time an actual sharer in the scenes described and pictured.

The text of Section Two deals with the events leading up to and following the Battle of Shiloh. There is a beautiful frontispiece in full colors, representing this great contest, which was fought both on water and on land.

The following half-tones from the actual photographs tell the trend of the story: General Grant, as Brigadier General, commanding in Illinois, 1861. Grant waiting for his mail at the Cairo postoffice. The river ironclad, Essex, and her commander, Captain Porter. The Cincinnati, the gunboat that fired the first shot at Fort Henry. Two gallant gunboats at Fort Donelson, the St. Louis and the Louisville. The Conestoga and the Tyler, two sister ships that fought at Fort Henry and Fort Donelson. Generals Simon B. Buckner and Lloyd Tilghman, the captured commanders. General A. S. Johnson who fell at Shiloh. General J. D. Webster, Grant's Chief of Staff. The Washington Artillery of New Orleans before the Battle of Shiloh. Pittsburgh Landing a few days after the battle. What the gunboats did at Shiloh. Iowa troops who held the center at the Hornet's Nest at Shiloh. The Fourth Kentucky Cavalry. The Mounted Police of the West. The Locomotive that hung Eight Men as Spies.

"I Knew Brady Well"

"I was in personal association with many of the events recorded, and among the photographs I recognize those of some fifty officers whom I knew more or less intimately.

"I enclose for your information a list of the officers whose portraits I have recognized through my personal acquaintance with them. I knew Brady well and can testify from my own knowledge to the genuineness and value of his photographic representations of Army scenes. It is very fortunate that they have been preserved."

CAN NOT TREAT IN WASHINGTON

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 10.—The Tacoma anti-treating ordinance is valid, the Supreme court ruled in upholding a conviction in a Tacoma Justice court. It was shown that a saloon keeper had served drinks to two persons and one had paid for the liquor. The court says regulation of "treating" is not a violation of any right of an individual.

ALASKAN VOLCANO CAUSING TROUBLE

SEWARD, Alaska, June 10.—Passengers on the mail steamer Dora, which arrived from the westward after passing through a hall of ashes from Katmai volcano, believe that several small fishing villages on the shores of Shelikof strait have been destroyed by the eruption. #### WOOL SALE LARGE

BILLINGS, Mont., June 10.—What is said by wool buyers to be the largest clip of wool ever sold in the west at one time was disposed of here by a local sheep company to a Chicago firm of dealers. #### GIRL AWAKES TO FIND SELF BLIND

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 10.—When a bellboy presented Miss Agnes Champney, aged 21, the soprano singer at the Schlitz palm garden, with a letter from her mother yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the Schlitz hotel, the young woman discovered that she was stone blind. The letter contained a pathetic plea from the mother, who is ill, to see her daughter.

"I would rather be dead than be blind for the rest of my life," cried the young woman, when she found that her sight had left her. She became so excited that it required the assistance of two physicians to keep her in bed. The doctors found that it was necessary to place her under the influence of drugs to relieve the nervous strain under which she labored.

From Miss Champney's attitude it is feared that she will try to take her own life. A guard consisting of a physician and a nurse has been placed in the room to prevent any attempt.

Physicians credit the sudden blindness to a nervous breakdown of her highly strung temperament, but are unable to say whether her sight will return.

THE FIRST GRAY HAIR SIGN OF AGE

Easy Way to Preserve Natural Color of the Hair and Make It Grow

A harmless remedy, made from common garden sage, quickly restores gray hair to natural color. The care of the hair, to prevent its losing its color and lustre, is just as important as to care for teeth to keep them from discoloring. Why spend money for cosmetics and creams to improve the complexion, and yet neglect your hair, when gray hair is even more conspicuous and suggestive of age than wrinkles or a poor complexion? Of the two, it is easier to preserve the natural color and beauty of the hair than it is to have a good complexion.

All that is necessary is the occasional use of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of common garden Sage and Sulphur combined with other valuable remedies for dry, harsh, faded hair, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. After a few applications, your hair will gradually be restored to its natural color. In a short time the dandruff will be removed, and your hair will no longer come out but will start to grow as Nature intended it should.

Don't neglect your hair, for it goes further than anything else to make or mar your good looks. You can buy this remedy at any drugstore for fifty cents a bottle, and your druggist will give you money back if you are not satisfied after using. Purchase a bottle today. You will never regret it when you realize the difference it will make in your appearance.

INDEPENDENTS HAND I. & S. NINE DEFEAT

In a regular old time hitfest the North La Crosse Independents handed the I. & S. nine an 11 to 2 defeat at Copeland park yesterday and incidentally won their fifth game of the season. Olson, the southpaw twirler who has been heaving in excellent form all season, toed the slab for the Independents and he kept up his good work of previous games by holding his opponents down to five bingles. L. Scholberg, backstop for the I. & S., was the only man who could solve his delivery effectively, and he knocked out a three bagger and a smash that gave him a round trip. Olson baffled the rest of the team and caused eleven men to sit down after taking three swings and hitting nothing but the atmosphere.

Kabat, third baseman of the Independents, was the heavy hitter of the day and he finished the game with a perfect batting average by hitting safely in all five times at bat. One of his swats was a three cushion shot and his batting was the feature of the afternoon.

Long, on the slab for the I. & S., was found for eleven hits and the Independents hit his delivery hard and often. The game was practically settled in the first round when the Independents shoved four runs across the pan before the third man was put out. They began hitting again in the fifth and during the last four innings they scored seven tallies which let them win with ease.

Noem, outfielder, has been dropped by the Independents, and Russell Lavoy has been signed up to play in the sunfield.

TROOPS PREPARE FOR SHAM BATTLE

La Crosse Boys to Take Part in War Maneuvers Near Camp Douglas

MADISON, Wis., June 10.—Except that blank cartridges will take the place of bullets, federal and state troops of the middle west, 6,000 strong, will move through southern and western Wisconsin next month in maneuvers as closely simulating war as times of peace allow. Two forces, one comprising six troops and a squadron of United States cavalry and the other consisting of two regiments of regular infantry, a battery of regular artillery and one of regular cavalry, will oppose each other on the march, the final destination being Sparta. Moving towards each other each day, the troops will camp at nightfall wherever they happen to be, carrying their camp equipment on their backs, and otherwise acting under exact conditions of war.

During the maneuver season there will be troops from Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota and other states in the central division co-operating with the Wisconsin and federal troops at and near the Wisconsin military reservation at Camp Douglas and at the Sparta grounds. The Second and Third Infantry of the Wisconsin National guard will be forced to maneuver from Camp Douglas to Sparta, and will be reinforced by the Third Illinois regiment. Six or eight troops of regular cavalry from the Sixth regiment at Fort Des Moines, and Battery A of the Wisconsin National guard will be opposed by a provisional regiment organized from three regiments of the regular army, now congregating at Dubuque, Iowa. Approximately 2,000 infantry and a provisional regiment commanded by Colonel Getty of the regular army will in about a week begin the march at Dubuque across the Mississippi river for Sparta, Wis. Indications are that Madison will be one point selected for camp, although conditions of "war" will govern such selection.

Another detachment to cross the Mississippi at Dubuque will be the Sixth regular cavalry at Des Moines. Its direction of march is unknown. This regiment of 2,000 men, organized according to the requirements of the new industry drill regulations devised for war purposes, will be camped at Sparta and will be the opposing force in the Wisconsin maneuvers.

There will be competition in rifle practice, and field exercises in control, reconnaissance, advance and rear guard, outpost and guarding camp. Colonel Orlando Holway of La Crosse, of the Third regiment, Wisconsin National guard, will command the forces starting from Camp Douglas. The First regiment of the Wisconsin troops, comprising companies from Milwaukee, Madison, Beloit, Neenah, Whitewater, Monroe, Oconomowoc and Fort Atkinson, will go into camp at Camp Douglas with the Tenth Separate battalion on July 13. The Second and Third regiments and Battery A, comprising companies from Eau Claire, La Crosse, Superior, Wausau, Marinette, Appleton, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Oshkosh and Manitowish, will go into camp at Camp Douglas on July 22. On leaving the camp all will enter the United States maneuver campaign, starting July 25.

PUJO PROBE AFTER STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, June 10.—It has been forecasted that evidence concerning the New York Stock exchange will be sought when the Pujo congressional money trust quiz is resumed Tuesday. It was freely predicted that the disclosures promised to be even more startling than the story told on the stand Thursday and yesterday of how the clearing house association dominated the banking institutions of New York, depriving fifty millions annual revenue, and forced the Oriental and three other Morse banks, declared to be solvent, to the wall in the 1907 panic.

MRS. PRIMROSE ASKS DIVORCE
NEW YORK, June 10.—In a petition for divorce filed Saturday Mrs. Esther Primrose, wife of George H. Primrose, declared that the famous minstrel was possessed of property worth $1,000,000 and that his income was $20,000.

NELSONS-HAMMER SPARTANS' PITCHER

Solving Waterman's delivery after the third inning yesterday, the Nelson Clothing company baseball team won an easy victory over Sparta at Sparta, winning the combat 11 to 2. Although Waterman held the locals runless for three rounds they got after him in the fourth and during the remainder of the game they found him with regularity.

It was John Hayes' war club that started the Nelsons on the road to victory. In the fourth frame with two men on the paths, Hayes poked out a timely swat which netted him two corners and gave the two runners a ride home. Waterman held them down in the fifth but in the sixth they again bombarded his slants and before the side was retired three of the locals had cut their initials in the pan with their spikes. During the latter part of the game it was merely hit and run for the Nelsons.

Squires, the star hurler of the Nelsons, held the Spartans down to six bingles only one of which was good for extra bases. On the other hand the locals hammered Waterman for sixteen safe swats, four of which were good for extra sacks. Squires set eight Spartans down on strikes and his control was so good that he didn't pass a man. Waterman fanned six men but Micklestad, Woll and Hayes touched him up for doubles and Micklestad slammed out a triple.

Convention Sidelights

CHICAGO, June 10.—It is not only the republican leaders here who are convention experts. Even the bell boys at the Congress hotel are thoroughly familiar with their duties, regarding the convention, for this hotel was the republican headquarters in the convention of 1908. The boys are acquainted with all of the republican leaders, and some of them are trusted with verbal messages between rooms that would furnish excellent newspaper copy.

"I don't like to run for senators or congressmen," said a Congress hotel boy. "Those fellows from Washington think we're pages instead of bell boys, and they never tip us."

James A. Tawney of Winona, former congressman, has gone to Dickens' works for ammunition against Roosevelt. Standing in the Congress lobby, Tawney said: "Why Charles Dickens, in 1856, prophesied just what is happening today. He wrote to a fellow named Randall or Randolph in this country, that after our cities grew, the people would become discontented. Then, Dickens said, a demagogue would rise and say to the people, 'If you follow me, I'll get all you want,' and Roosevelt is the fellow Dickens was talking about."

Taft is going to win beyond all doubt," continued Tawney, "and after that you'll see all this nonsense about the initiative and referendum and recall of judges die out completely. The wave of populism will pass with Taft's election."

Judson Lyons, the Washington negro who was once registrar of the treasury, is tall and attracts considerable attention in the convention crowds.

"What is your name, sir?" a reporter asked him.
"Got a dollar bill?" asked Lyons. When the reporter had pulled forth, reluctantly, the specie called for, Lyons pointed to his signature on one corner of the bill and said to the reporter: "That's me." "How much money have you signed altogether?" a reporter asked Lyons.

"I've signed millions and millions," answered Lyons carefully, and then, hesitatingly—Oh, well, you might as well say billions of dollars."

The brigade of women writers, already on the scene, is lying in ambush for two women who are due soon in Chicago—Mrs. Florence Collins Porter and Mrs. Isabella W. Blaney, delegates from California to the republican national convention.

Half a dozen women writers, talking together at the Congress, declared that each one of their circle had been assigned to do nothing but sit, walk and eat beside the two women delegates to "get their impressions."

It appears that the two women delegates will be the busiest of all the convention visitors.

The democratic national committee has sent half a dozen scouts to follow the doings in the republican camp in Chicago. David R. Francis of Missouri, is one of the democratic onlookers. Louis Nixon of Tammany hall, Urey Woodson of Kentucky, John R. Burton, assistant secretary of the democratic national committee and Senator Bacon of Georgia, are leading scouts.

Members of the republican national committee live comfortably, even during their long and tedious work of listening to contests.

Free cigars and cigarettes, a continuous lunch in a back room, and free carnations every morning, are some of the perquisites of the national committee-men's job.

"You boys must excuse us if we get wrongly," said Senator Borah to the reporters the first day of the national committee sessions. "You know we've never had reporters in national committee meetings before and we may not know how to act at first."

Ten minutes later he was hurling his "steam roller" accusations into the ring, while Murray Crane was pleading with him to keep still and preserve the republican peace.

SCALE FRAUD FOUND.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 10.—The Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission has unearthed a gigantic weight fraud through finding a small device in a stock sale at Ortonville, Minn.

The device, which is less than an inch in length and weighs but one-thirty-second of an ounce, is made of steel and is inverted in the pivot of the scale either to "shrink" the weight or increase it.

The device can be operated to make a difference of ten per cent in the weight of a load. The small device is manufactured in Wisconsin, and the inventor is said to be disposing of the little steel blade for $75.

FAVOR COAL PROBE.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—"An anthracite coal trust" investigation was recommended to the house today by the interstate commerce committee, which favorably reported the resolution of Representative Diefenderfer (Dem., Pa.), directing the department of commerce and labor to make the probe.

Shopping Bags and Parasols

Our exquisite line of bags and parasols appeals to the most discriminating buyers. These goods have been selected with the greatest care and are the very cream of the market. Hundreds have called to see them and they are all of the same opinion. The nicest and classiest line in the city and prices very reasonable. They are just the proper thing for graduation presents.

Members of the republican national committee live comfortably, even during their long and tedious work of listening to contests.

Free cigars and cigarettes, a continuous lunch in a back room, and free carnations every morning, are some of the perquisites of the national committee-men's job.

"You boys must excuse us if we get wrongly," said Senator Borah to the reporters the first day of the national committee sessions. "You know we've never had reporters in national committee meetings before and we may not know how to act at first."

Ten minutes later he was hurling his "steam roller" accusations into the ring, while Murray Crane was pleading with him to keep still and preserve the republican peace.

SCALE FRAUD FOUND.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 10.—The Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission has unearthed a gigantic weight fraud through finding a small device in a stock sale at Ortonville, Minn.

The device, which is less than an inch in length and weighs but one-thirty-second of an ounce, is made of steel and is inverted in the pivot of the scale either to "shrink" the weight or increase it.

The device can be operated to make a difference of ten per cent in the weight of a load. The small device is manufactured in Wisconsin, and the inventor is said to be disposing of the little steel blade for $75.

CHURCH SERVICE COSTS MEMBER $1

Father Johnson Gives Some Interesting Data in Talk on Church Finances

"If we sold tickets for admission to this service, charging each member of the congregation his share of what the service actually cost, it would be necessary to put the price of the tickets at $1 each," said Rev. William Johnson at the morning service in Christ church yesterday. Rev. Johnson's sermon was devoted to a discussion of a recent meeting of the vestry and the finances of the church. He declared that the church is facing a situation which demands the serious attention of every member of the parish.

"This building cost about $60,000," said Rev. Johnson, "and it costs $160 a week to run it. It costs fifty cents every time a man, woman, or child enters the church. Now I am not in favor of cutting down on the expenses. What I urge, is the increasing of the congregation so that each one's share of the expense will not be so large."

Children Hope of Future

"Give me your children, Be square with the church, mothers and fathers. Let us teach them from the very beginning what is the most essential to the future of the church. Reverence, abiding and sincere, should be instilled into a child from the time it is able to walk."

"I do not believe that the church should take an active hand in legislation, national, state or municipal, but I believe that it should put its spiritual stamp on the community so that all men shall know the evils with which we are beset. Again in the child rests our hope of the future."

"If a business enterprise was managed on the same principles of this church, it would be forced to close its doors within a month. If we were able to double our membership, it would reduce the share to twenty-five cents and were we able to increase it ten times, each share would be five cents."

Increase Congregation

"I would increase the congregation rather than lower expenses. If a reasonable proportion of those confirmed in this church were here today, there would be difficulty in finding seats for all, but they are not here. It is necessary to be continually recruiting new members, and our hope rests with the children. Other churches have realized this and have taken advantage of it. They have established schools and taken other steps to care for their future congregations. I would like to see this church used every day in the week and every hour in the day. There should be something going on here all the time. We need something to interest people in our work."

Rev. Johnson closed his address with a powerful appeal for co-operation on the part of the parents and older members of the parish in the endeavor to bring the children into the church at the age when the teaching of reverence would remain in their minds throughout life.

It doesn't take a man long to tire of posing as a good example. It isn't always the fast young man who gets there.

TAFT STRENGTH IS SHOWN AGAIN IN COMMITTEE

Roosevelt forces, despite the importance of the matter, were only able to muster thirteen members of the committee in their attempt to force immediate action. They gained a slight concession, however, when the committee unanimously put on the temporary roll call of the uncontested Roosevelt delegates from California. This action, however, could be reversed at any time by a two-thirds vote of the committee. The thirteen Roosevelt votes were cast by George A. Knight, California; W. E. Borah, Idaho; A. R. Burnham, Kentucky; Pearl Wight, Louisiana; F. B. Kellogg, Minnesota; Lucius Littauer, Nevada; W. L. Ward, New York; John S. Capers, South Carolina; Thomas Thorson, South Dakota; Cecil Lyon, Texas; C. E. Looze, Utah; A. T. Rogers, Wisconsin, and Henry Mack, Philippine Islands.

Bitter Fight First
Previous to this action, bitter personalities were indulged in. Borah forced Dick to admit that the entire California delegation's right to be seated was questioned because of the fact that the direct primary law does not conform with the call of the committee for the election of delegates. Borah flatly accused the Taft men of getting things in readiness to unseat all of the California delegates.

Francis J. Heney, for the Roosevelt delegates whose seats were in question, assailed the majority of the committee for "plotting to disfranchise a sovereign state." Chairman Victor Rosewater told him that he was present only by courtesy and that he was insulting the committee. Other Taft committeemen took the same view, and then Borah, his face livid with anger, and his attitude breathing defiance, declared that if the committee did not want to hear the truth from an outsider, it would have to hear it at length from an insider. Just when it seemed that a general row was being precipitated the motion to put the contest over until Wednesday was made and it prevailed, ending the debate.

To Throw Delegates Out
Outside of the committee room Heney said he had proof that the Taft people planned to throw out the entire Roosevelt delegation from California and leave that state unrepresented. "But they had better not dare make the attempt."

It was then that the committee took up the Indiana contests, beginning with the delegates at large. Previously it had put over the Arizona contests until Wednesday.

The electricity in the air showed again when Horace C. Stillwell of Anderson, Ind., speaking for the contestants, said: "I ask that you stop the process of the steam roller."

Chairman Rosewater began beating the desk with his gavel and ordered Stillwell to confine his remarks to the contest.

"I object," shouted Committeeman Thomas H. Devine, jumping to his feet. "There is no steam roller."

Devine replied: "Either you or your associates are constantly passing out to the newspapermen that there is a steam roller here."

"It is not necessary for us to peddle it out to newspapermen that there is a steam roller here. They know one when they see it and they can tell whether there is or is not such a machine."

Steps on Chairman
Here Chairman Rosewater again rapped for order and told Stillwell to proceed. This aroused Senator Borah, who shouted: "I want it understood that the chairman of this committee is not the committee, but only chairman. He has no right to interrupt, as he does every speaker who does not confine his remarks to things that are pleasant to his ears. This committee is not a school and the chairman is not a school master."

"I am a member of this committee," answered Chairman Rosewater. "Yes, and nothing more than a member. The committee itself is judge of what it wishes to hear, and I for one am tired of the little school masterly speeches with which the chairman has interrupted various speakers before this committee. Let the committee members do their own objecting, if they please. When they object, it is time for the chairman to act, and not before."

Rosewater was plainly chagrined and after some hesitation, said: "The chair is very pleased to have his remarks characterized as school masterly."

After Stillwell got through the case of the Taft delegates was presented by Morrill Moores of Indianapolis.

Borah Fights Hard
When the complete case in the Indiana delegates at large contest was presented Senator Borah, for the Roosevelt forces, demanded the right to present affidavits which set forth, he claimed, a complete substantiation of all of the Roosevelt charges of fraud, and corruption in connection with the Indiana primaries.

Committeeman Shackelford of Alaska raised the point of order that this action was illegal, and the committee got into a tedious wrangle. Borah tried to get around the question by asking questions that were based on the affidavits, but Shackelford insisted on his point of order. Borah was given unanimous consent to ask his questions on motion of Boise Penrose of Pennsylvania.

Borah said: "All I want to find out is whether the president actually carried this primary. I have a statement here by Lew Shank, mayor of Indianapolis. He says that H. L. Wallace named only Taft men on election boards and also warned all city employees if they worked for Roosevelt they would lose their jobs. Mr. Hemenway, is there any basis in fact for this statement?"

Hemenway Denies
"There is absolutely none," said Former Senator Hemenway for the Taft forces. He said that there were no men discharged from the city employ for supporting Roosevelt so far as he knew.

He was asked if in third and fourth ward the polling place had not been located at a place almost inaccessible to the voters. Hemenway said that he could not answer this question. Borah then asked whether the voting place was not located a long distance from the trolley trunk lines in the city and on a branch line where cars ran only one each twenty minutes. Hemenway said all he could say was that the vote cast at a ward primary.

Cyclist Chased by Lions.
Two motor cyclists, Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald, the former a magistrate at Mzimba, while returning from the Zomba (Central Africa) coronation ceremonies, were chased for five miles by two lions, which showed no fear of the noise made by the engines and galloped after the motor cyclists with evident determination to kill them.

The lions were finally outdistanced and the riders, suffering greatly from nervous strain, reached their home in safety.—Livingstonia News.

Rev. Faville Delivers Baccalaureate Address for High School at Congregational Church

PASTOR PRAISES TEACHER

McCormick Urges Students Not to Leave School for Fairly Paying Job

The baccalaureate sermon for the high school graduating class was delivered by Rev. Henry Faville last night at the Congregational church. One of the largest audiences in recent years attended the services.

Rev. Faville chose for his subject "Our Teachers," and dwelt with every phase of source for learning. His first topic was our present high school teachers who are college and university graduates.

"The great world with its throb of business, its many different kinds of people, its thousands of industries and its many diversities is possibly the greatest teacher in earning a livelihood on this earth," said Rev. Faville. "If one be a close observer of human nature he can learn much that will help him in life. If he take notice of the ways of the world, its progress and development he also finds there a great teacher."

"Last but not least we must be taught spiritually and the greatest teacher for this and for worldly knowledge is God."

He dealt briefly, but thoroughly with this subject.

Musical Service Good

The musical service was exceptionally good and greatly appreciated by the large attendance.

Many minor points in regard to school life were also brought up by Prof. McCormick at this morning's assembly. The students not graduating were urged to come back to school next fall and not drop out for some job which may net them fairly good pay during the summer.

The final exams will start tomorrow morning and continue until Wednesday noon. Those who graduate and have not slumped four points from the previous semester and who were not tardy nor absent for more than three days do not have to take the finals even if their average does not come up to eighty-five as required for exemption for the undergraduates.

Booster Out Thursday

The Booster will be out on Thursday and may be obtained at the high school for ten cents by paid up subscribers, and for seventy-five cents by others. The Booster Annual this year is beyond a doubt the best ever gotten out at the local high school and were it not for the large number of subscribers would cost at least a dollar.

The pictures drawn by Eugene Hundredmark to advertise the high school vaudeville show will be auctioned off at the high school late this afternoon.

The object of this concert is to enable Mr. Goetzinger to send his wife to a noted oculist in Chicago for an operation which will entirely restore her sight, which has been failing for some time. Mr. Goetzinger visited the same doctor a short time ago in the hope that something might be done to restore her sight, but nothing could be done for the talented musician.

CARNIVAL OPENS ON THE MARKET

Six Shows and Numerous Other Attractions Will Draw Big Crowd Tonight

BENEFIT FOR THE BALL CLUB

Solid Week of Entertainment Expected to Replenish the Club's Funds

Market Square today is the scene of activity such as has not been seen for a year. The sound of hammers, shouts of teamsters, the clanging of iron and the many other noises which accompany the preparations of a carnival company on opening day draw the attention of the passers-by. The big carnival, consisting of six different shows, a merry-go-round and a ferris wheel, brought here by the La Crosse Baseball association will open for the entertainment of the people of La Crosse and for the replenishment of the baseball association's treasury, this evening. The greater part of the square and some of the adjacent streets are filled with the tented homes and structures of the various attractions.

Many Shows Ready

What promises to be the most interesting feature of the carnival perhaps, is Callcott show, "The White Slave Traffic," a motion picture lecture of the vice conditions in the larger cities. This show has the endorsement of the St. Paul Humane society, H. P. Keller, mayor of St. Paul, and many clubs in the different towns where the show has been given.

"The Coliseum," a place of continuous vaudeville, is another promising place of entertainment. Strong men, acrobats and other skilled in amusement will exhibit their prowess in various difficult feats.

"A Chinese Opium Den," presents a front of true Oriental mystery and it is said that the entertainment offered within is both interesting and educational.

Divers to Exhibit

"The Water Splash Circus," where men and women divers go through the antics of human fish is sure to interest swimmers and to astonish those who are unable to indulge in aquatic acrobatics.

Several other shows, besides the usual cane racks, dolls, who persist in escaping the truest aim of the baseball fan, knife ringing tables, and places to appease that sudden longing for "hot dog" and other dainties of the open air kitchen, will keep the excitement seeker interested tonight. The band will open the entertainment at 7:30 and the barker for the shows will announce the rest. With the pleasant weather it is expected that a large crowd will be on hand to help in the justification. The carnival will continue all this week.

WINONA AMATEURS PLAY IN LA CROSSE

Our companies are backed up by the best financial and personal references in the state of Colorado, both as to the value of the properties and the management.

Owing to the low capitalization of our companies this stock is bound to double in value as soon as our new mill is completed.

CHICAGO, June 10.—The influences that make prices in the wheat market today favored the bears. Heavy rains in Kansas and Nebraska had effectively broken the drought there, and the weather this morning was reported cool in the heaviest wheat raising sections. Liverpool wheat ruled about steady. Receipts in the local market were light. The slight reductions in prices were recorded in the corn market today. Liverpool reported slightly lower prices. In the local market receipts were heavy.

The oats market showed little activity during the day, with prices holding fairly steady.

Provisions were higher.

RUMOR THAT "BEANED" HEAD GIVES HIM TOO MUCH TROUBLE AND HE MUST RETIRE SOON

CHICAGO, June 8.—A special dispatch from Brooklyn to the Daily News today says that Frank Chance, leader of the Chicago Cubs in the National league, will retire from baseball within a short time. The reason for his retirement at this time is given as trouble on account of his "beaned" head. This trouble developed after playing and now it is said that he suffers acute pains at the base of the brain and he believes he cannot do the team justice and lead it properly on account of this ailment.

OUTCASTS TAKE LAST OF SERIES

Helgeson's Pitching Is Too Much for Rochester and Bond's Team Wins 7 to 4

With Helgeson pitching a steady game and his teammates giving him good backing the Outcasts came back yesterday and took the last combat of the Rochester series by the count of 7 to 4. Rochester outthrew the locals but the local box artist was effective in all except the fifth and ninth innings when the Surgeons made all their runs. However, they never had a chance to win with Helgeson twirling steadily for he refused absolutely to issue a pass and the only way the visitors could do anything was to hit safely.

Rochester got a total of nine bingles but three of these were of the scratch order. In the first inning Marsh called Dreis safe on his easy tap to Helgeson when it looked as if he was out and in the second R. Walsh hoisted a fly into short right field which it seemed possible for Du Chien to reach, but he let it fall safe. This made no difference, however, for Walsh tried to make two bases on the hit and was nailed, Du Chien to Weigant. Again in the seventh R. Walsh beat out a tap to Du Chien by the narrowest of margins. In no innings except the fifth and ninth did two Surgeons hits get together and Helgeson's control was perfect.

On the other hand both Armontrout and Wegman were wild, seven passes being given out by them in addition to which the former hit Brown. The Outcasts had trouble in hitting them safely though and they got but five bingles all day but their hits were timely. Armontrout was taken off the mound after the seventh round, Wegman finishing the game and the locals got two runs off him, due to wildness and an infield hit.

Brown and R. Walsh were the heavy hitters of the day, each man finishing with a perfect average. Brown got a double, a single and was hit once in three trips to the plate, while Walsh slammed out four hits, including a double in as many times up.

After Meinert got as far as third base in the first and was caught at the pan on Bond's rap to Armontrout, the Outcasts began in earnest in the third and got two runs. Brown blew open the round with a single, went to second on Helgeson's sacrifice and to third on Meinert's out. Du Chien came across with a swat to right, scoring Brown, then he stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored when Gates fumbled. Bond's roller, Bond was nipped stealing. They added two more in the fourth. Van Horn whiffed but Morse walked and went to second on Larson's out. He advanced to third when Dreis threw wild to first on Weigant's smash. Nally was put on to run for Charlie and he stole second, counting with Morse on Brown's double to center.

Rochester had its first chance to pout in the fifth when R. Walsh poked out a double with one dead. Juergens's single registered him, and Juergens got to third when Weigant made a low peg to first on Armontrout's bounder. He rounded third and started for home, getting there on Van Horn's poor shot to Brown.

Meinert's long triple gave Brown a ride home in the seventh after he had been hit.

Brown added another tally in the seventh when he was hit in the ribs and pliffed second, going to third on R. Walsh's peg to center field. A passed ball let him in. Wegman went in the eighth but he was wild and two more runs came in. Bond walked, went to second on an out, to third on Morse's hit and scored on a wild pitch on which Morse went to third, after a steal of second. Morse scored on an out.

Three hits let the Surgeons furnish a little excitement in the ninth but they couldn't tie the count. Collins began with a single and R. Walsh duplicated it after Gates flew out. Juergens' out advanced both men who scored on Jacob's swat to center and he took second on the throw but Helgeson ended the rally by whiffing Wegman. Saturday's Game
After being knocked off the mound on Friday, Weidell came back Saturday and baffled the Outcasts to the extent that they got only six hits and Rochester took the second straight game of the series by the count of 9 to 2. The locals never had a chance to win as they didn't give their hurlers the best of support and in addition they couldn't bunch hits off Weidell. In only one frame, the third, did two Outcast swats come together and this coupled with a pass to Van Horn resulted in one of the local runs. The other came with the assistance of free transportation to Bond and Charley Weigant sent him across the rubber on a two bagger to left.

Bond took Morse out in the fourth, although the twirler was pitching fairly well during his stay on the mound, only three swats being made off him. Bues did slab duty for the remainder of the time and was touched up for six hits.

One inning, the fourth, practically settled the game, although the Surgeons made two other runs which could have given them victory. Morse started out by hitting Gates and that gave Rochester an opening which enabled them to score five runs and bat all around. R. Walsh bunted to Morse and Bond's failure to cover first base gave the batter a hit. Juergens sacrificed them ahead. With the infield playing close Jacobs hit one that got through Weigant, giving the batter three bases and counting two runs. Larson missed Weidell's grounder and Jacobs scored. Bues came on then and after M. Walsh sacrificed Walker slammed out a double scoring Weidell. Dreis singled but Graves took Collins' fly.

The Surgeons got two in the first on two passes and Gates' double and two bingles and an error gave them another in the seventh. Their last tally came in the eighth on Van Horn's error, a sacrifice and a single. Score: Rochester . . . AB R H PO A E M.
